As part of the Global Diaspora Week put on by the Global Diaspora Confederation, and specifically as part of the GD Academy portion of the event, the African Diaspora Network is proud to present "ADN Masterclass On Achieving Diaspora Impact through Partnerships" on Tuesday 12th December, 2023 at 8:30am PDT.

The African Diaspora Network will have a fireside chat on the importance and processes of partnership development. After 13 years of operations, ADN has developed mechanisms and procedures for developing high impact and mutually beneficial partnerships. Via a fireside chat format between ADN's founder and executive director, Almaz Negash, and ADN's director of programs and operations, Omolayo Nkem Oyudo, the fireside chat will explore themes of how to find, develop and maintain partner relationships that support organizational goals. Martin Russell of Global Diaspora Insights will set the context for the event.

ADN will also highlight some important partnerships that we have developed this past year and the exciting projects we have planned between them in the next few years. This portion of the event helps to demonstrate the partnerships development and management process that diaspora and other organizations can benefit and learn from and also helps to demonstrate the impact that is possible with intentional and well cultivated partnerships.
